

ENCOUNTER ART AT MARINA CENTRAL

Embark on an epic multisensory art trail at the #heartofmarina with Art Encounters by Art Outreach, a non-profit organisation that supports visual arts practitioners and promotes visual art. This unique presentation series captures the art-making process within repurposed shipping containers. Now in its fourth edition, Art Encounters features an installation by local textile artist Natalia Tan titled "Into Softer Worlds". Visit three unique containers located around the precinct, and take part in an array of fun art activities. This art trail also highlights 8 iconic outdoor sculptures by artists from around the world!

ART ENCOUNTERS

INTO SOFTER WORLDS

1 May - 27 June 2021
11am to 8pm daily

Marina Square | Welcome Gallery
Millenia Walk | Free-weaving Studio & Textile Art Exhibition

with artist Natalia Tan

Step Into Softer Worlds to experience a community-effort to participate, create, and share in what moves us. Visitors are more than mere viewers in this multi-sensory art encounter. Rather, they drive the work by weaving their heartfelt wishes into a collectively-created tapestry of dreams and desires. No two visits will be the same, as the spaces evolve over the course of the show. Natalia will be present at the free-weaving studio on Sundays to Tuesdays (11am to 7pm).

ART WORKSHOPS

Learn more about weaving and creating art from recyclable materials through a series of hands-on workshops. To register, visit: <https://www.artoutreachsingapore.org/book-online>. Kindly note that workshops are charged at $12 per person to cover material costs. Limited slots available on a first come, first served basis.

- 01 Begin at Marina Square's outdoor walkway, along Raffles Avenue, and find the Art Encounters welcome gallery. Watch videos of past editions and view an installation of upcycled rattan chairs.
- 02 Walk over to South Beach, known for its signature microclimatic wave-like canopy, to discover artworks by international artists such as CraterCorten (2012) – the corten steel sculpture by Arik Levy from Israel; Joie De Vivre Heroic (2012) – three Baroque spiraled figures in a pristine dance of music and light by California-based Richard Macdonald; or immerse yourself in Drifting Clouds –Ephemeral Beauty (2016) by Australian artist B. Jane Cowie. While you are here, be mesmerized by the whimsical textile art installations by Natalia Tan and Alysha Rahmat Shah, from 6 May.
- 03 Stroll along Temasek Boulevard and Raffles Boulevard to find Abundance III (1995), the giant bronze ring by Singapore-based sculptor and painter Sun Yu-li. All around Suntec City, look out for artworks by emerging artists from Singapore and Southeast Asia in a brand-new display titled Unboxing Arts in Suntec City; and gardens and vines of textile art by Natalia Tan and Nature Shankar, from 10 May.
- 04 At Temasek Boulevard, spot the iconic Fountain Of Wealth (1995). It was listed as the largest fountain in the world by the Guinness Book of Records in 1998.
- 05 Head towards the Park-and-Dine street at Millenia Walk and behold the Soaring Helix (1994) by Philip Johnson.
- 06 Hop over to the Art Encounters shipping container to enjoy an exhibition of textile works by Singaporean artists, including a yarnbomb installation by Kelly Limerick!
- 07 Join textile artist Natalia Tan in her pop up free-weaving studio in the adjacent container. Try your hand at weaving with a Japanese floor loom, and contribute to a collective tapestry.
- 08 At the outdoor plaza of Millenia Walk, marvel at the specially commissioned Six Brushstrokes (1997) by Roy Lichtenstein.
- 09 Head over to Pan Pacific Singapore and find Deva (1986), by the famous American kinetic sculpture artist, Lin Emery.
- 10 At the driveway of Mandarin Oriental, Singapore, be amazed by French artist Antoine Poncet's Fleur Marine (1984) rising from the fountain.
- 11 Cross over to Esplanade waterfront to appreciate Cultural Medallion recipient, Han Sai Por's Seeds (1995). For more public art at Esplanade, visit: <https://www.esplanade.com/explore-esplanade/public-art>
- 12 Visit Sewing Discord, a group exhibition paying homage to the rich legacies of diverse craft traditions, at Jendela (Visual Arts Space) until 4 July. For more information, visit: www.esplanade.com/sewingdiscord
